

KMOV NAMES SCOTT DIENER NEWS DIRECTOR

August 18, 2016 – For immediate release

KMOV Channel 4 announced today that Scott Diener has been named News Director of KMOV News 4, effective September 6.

Diener is an experienced news leader who has worked for strong local stations in Los Angeles, Dallas, San Francisco, Phoenix, Cincinnati and Louisville.

Most recently Scott served as Vice President of News for KCBS/KCAL. Under Scott's leadership the CBS-owned duopoly in Los Angeles achieved historic ratings milestones including the first-ever #1 ranking of late news at 10:00 p.m. and 11:00 p.m.

"Scott's experience, vision, and strong news leadership will be great for our team, our brand, and for our viewers," said Mike Murphy, Vice President and General Manager of KMOV. "I know he's going to do an outstanding job."

"I'm proud to be joining such a great team and television station," said Diener. "KMOV already has a great tradition of news and advocacy for its viewers. I'm looking forward to see how we can make its future even better."

Diener has been honored with some of journalism's most prestigious awards, including a George Foster Peabody Award and the Alfred I. duPont-Columbia University Award.

Scott graduated from the University of Missouri School of Journalism. He and his wife, Jean, have three sons.
