

Elise Durham joined us as our Executive Producer for Special Projects. Elise will help oversee the investigative unit and assist with sweeps planning; elections; and any special projects that come our way. In addition Elise will help support our daily news gathering and newscast preparation.

Elise is a Florida native who has spent more than 17 years working in Atlanta in various capacities. She began her career as a producer for WCTV in Tallahassee. She then produced newscasts at WJXT in Jacksonville and at KPRC-TV in Houston. Elise arrived in Atlanta in 1994 when she joined WAGA as a producer for their morning newscast. She also worked for WSB as a senior producer.

Elise also has experience out of the newsroom. She worked in media relations at Morehouse College and most recently was an assistant VP for Communications at Florida A&M University. It was at Florida A&M where she earned her degree in Broadcast Journalism.
