

My mother, George's wife, Mina Glazer is undergoing acute in-patient physical therapy and treatment at Delray Beach Medical Center's Pinecrest Facility. She was injured by four fractured ribs when my father collapsed on top of her. He was trying to help her up off the bathroom floor when he suffered an immediate and fatal heart attack. The heart attack was further compounded when he struck his head on a bathroom tub.

According to the Palm Beach County Medical Examiner, the cause of the November 22, 2016 death was coronary artery disease, not the fall.

I arrived, by circumstance, at the family home moments after the fall. I was unable to revive my father. He had lost an immense amount of blood. Law enforcement officials treated the area as a crime scene. A complete autopsy was performed.

George's body will be released by the medical examiner late Monday. We hope Mina will become mobile in the next few days. She is still in physical pain.

Disappointingly, his doctor detected a problem days before and told him to relax. Surgery was post-Thanksgiving imminent. I was very close with my Dad. One of his proudest moments, and there were many, when he saw me, but did not know, that I was reporting live for CNN on 9-11 in NY. He was sitting with the rest of the alte kakers in the country club clubhouse and stood up and said that's my son!

Thank you for your prayers and support.
