WBTW News 13 Promotes Eric Walters to News Director; Jo Brown Moves Up to Assistant News Director

(Myrtle Beach, SC) WBTW Regional Vice-President and General Manager Randy Ingram announces the promotion of Eric Walters to News Director. Mr. Walters replaces Dana Ritter, who is leaving WBTW to become Washington Bureau Chief for Christian Broadcasting Network.

The past three years, Eric Walters has served as WBTW Assistant News Director. A native of Dillon, SC, Eric has been with WBTW for over 20 years.

Mr. Ingram also announces the promotion of Jo Brown from WBTW Assignment Manager to Assistant News Director. Ms. Brown joined WBTW in 2015 as part of the station's digital team. Besides Myrtle Beach, she has also worked for local news stations in Bluefield, WV and Jackson, MS.

Randy Ingram says, "Eric brings 20 years of news experience in the market and Jo has excelled in her previous roles at WBTW. This is a natural migration of our deeply talented news team that serves Myrtle Beach and the Pee Dee."
