Folks,

We appear to be establishing a Cleveland Outpost in Tulsa. Congratulations to NOW Senior Producer Brittany Miller who has accepted the Assistant News Director position at our Scripps station in Tulsa. She will be working with our Warren there at KJRH and the two will make for a dynamic and successful team. We will certainly miss Brittany. Her spirit, personality, and news perspective have made us a stronger team over the past two years. I will especially miss her during breaking news coverage where she has demonstrated such great reaction, composure and execution.

Brittany's last day will be in mid-July. Make sure to congratulate her on this incredible opportunity! (And yes, Warren is sending us two first round picks and some pizza in exchange).

Thanks,

Jeff
