I have loved this job.
But after 15 years, it is time to move on.

We have accomplished much together since 1989 when I started at Newspath as a regional producer based in Tallahassee. We have evolved from a darn good video news clip service to a true multi-platform 24-hour newsroom.

When I became News Director in 1998, we listened to our affiliates and created the News Service they told us they wanted and needed. Over the years, we reinvented ourselves a number of times to stay ahead of the changes in our industry. We made our correspondent teams the heart of our business while maintaining our unparalleled regional news operation. We led the way in new technology for news gathering, distribution, and affiliate contribution. We helped create and we continue to host NNS, the groundbreaking news sharing organization.

Today we cover more news and feed more video than any other news service. Our journalism is solid and worthy of CBS News. Our affiliates put us on TV everywhere; every day, literally millions of viewers across the country watch our reporters. Our special events unit and live news center are unmatched. We support dozens of international broadcasters with a responsive news service that goes deeper into the US than any other. We have become the best in the business thanks to your unceasing hard work and dedication. I am certain you will continue to excel in the years ahead.

I have worked with many of you for years and years. You have been friends as well as colleagues. Thanks.

With the exception of some vacation time, I should be in the office through the end of June.

Bill
